Goldie Greer is out on account of illness. The intermediate room misses Goldie.

The 5th grade have finished the Brook's text in reading, and will take up the Art Literature next Monday. The 8th grade have also completed the Brook's text and will begin the supplementary reading with Evangelism, taken up with some methods used in high school work.

The third grade on the south side chose "Christmas Everywhere" for the December memory work. They are learning the leading facts in the life of Longfellow this month.

The south side had a very happy celebration of their own the Friday afternoon before the Christmas vacation.

The attendance has been very good since the vacation, with the exception of a few who are sick enough to be excused and yet not sick enough to be in bed.

Mrs. C. E. Brown, of Los Angeles, remembered the grammar room with a box of beautiful California holly, and the bright berries have quite offset the greyness of the outside world.

Marby Henning of the 8th grade, is out with a very severe case of sore throat.

Mary, Annie, and Susie Thomas of the grammar room, will leave Saturday night to enter St. Vincent's academy of Albuquerque, for the January-June semester. The girls will be greatly missed and the best wishes of their schoolmates go with them.

Delightful Holiday Affair

On Christmas Eve Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scorse were host and hostess at one of the most delightful affairs of the holiday season, when they entertained at a prettily appointed dinner Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark, Miss Annie Evans, their mother, Mrs. H. H. Scorse and Miss Rose Scorse.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in a color scheme of red and green, the Christmas holly predominating. A beautiful Christmas tree, bearing gifts for each one, enhanced the attractiveness of the dining room as well as giving the recipients additional pleasure.

After partaking of the sumptuous repast all retired to the living room where the evening passed pleasantly with music and in social converse.

KAIBAD LAND OPENED AGAIN

A great restoration to entry of forest and mountain land north of the Colorado river at Grand Canyon on the Kaibad plateau, was ordered in the United States land office last week in correspondence from the department of the interior. Approximately 50,000 acres of land are restored to settlement prior to entry.

A peculiarity of the order is that all persons found on the land mentioned, without proper accounting for their presence there, are to be treated as trespassers. But from February sixteenth, at nine in the morning until the same hour on March 17, the land will be open for settlement. Then entry may be made in proper form. The order approved December 18 throws parts of the Kaibad National forest, the Grand Canyon game preserve and the Grand Canyon National monument open to settlement prior to entry. Vacant and unappropriated public lands withdrawn for classification under the act of June 25, 1910, by proclamation of the president May 19, 1913, are those now being restored to the public domain.

The total acreage will run approximately 50,000 acres. Owing to the fact that not all the land is accurately described by sections, it was impossible to figure the exact acreage, but 50,000 is the amount estimated by John J. Birdpo, receiver of the land office.

The charter of this land differs in several localities, some plains, some river bottom and still other parts consisting of the edges of hills and canyons. Bonafide settler, with their rights entire can make settlement on this land between February 16th and March 17th, but not before or after that period.

The land office is anxious to get settlers on this rich strip of land. It borders the sheep ranges of the Mormon settlers who invaded the savage wilderness of the Kaibad Plateau from the north. A good deal of publicity will be given the matter so as to attract as many settlers as possible.

Those unsurveyed lands, which by protraction of present survey lines would probably be:

The N $\frac{1}{2}$ & S. W. $\frac{1}{4}$; Sec. 8; N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ Sec. 9; Secs. 17, 18, 19, 20; W $\frac{1}{2}$ Sec. 30; N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ Sec. 31, township 39 North, range 1 East.

Sec. 25; N $\frac{1}{2}$ Sec. 36; township 39 North, range 1 West.

Those parts of townships 35 and 36 North range 3 West lying west of the first west breaks of Kanab Creek Canyon.

Those parts of Sec. 37 North range 3 West, lying between the west rim of the Kanab Creek Canyon and the first west breaks thereof.

The part of township 34 North, range 4 West, north and west of the Colorado river and west of the first breaks of the Kanab Creek Canyon.

Those parts of the two south tiers of sections west of the first breaks of the Kanab Creek Canyon and that part of the remainder in the township lying between the first west breaks and the west rim of said canyon.

That part of township 37 North, range 4 West, south and west of the rim of the Kanab Creek Canyon.

All on the Gila and Salt River Meridian.

After an enjoyable week's visit with his family here G. M. Swindell returned on Monday to Los Angeles. During his stay here he, with Mrs. Swindell and the children visited the Petrified forest. Mr. Swindell's vacation was necessarily short owing to the demands of his official duty as secretary of the Chamber of Oils and Mines in Los Angeles.

He said that only the week before his visit here the chamber installed a magnificent exhibit of azurites from Bisbee, Arizona, valued at $3,000. The exhibit is arranged on lustrous black velvet in a specially designed plate glass case which occupies a conspicuous place in the chamber. It ranks third of its kind in the world, in value but, Mr. Swindell says it is exceeded by none in point of magnificence and beauty of arrangement, showing to the best advantage the mass of wonderful blue which at once attracts the attention of visitors. About 3,000 people called at the chamber to view this marvelous exhibit from Arizona, the first week of its installation. In speaking of the enterprise and flourishing conditions of Holbrook Mr. Swindell expressed himself in pleasing terms.

A number of Miss Evans' friends arrived in the evening, giving the honoree a pleasant surprise. Interesting games were played and during the evening delicious refreshments were served.

Ice Cream and Cake

The mutual improvement association held a very pleasant session last Sunday night. At the close of the regular exercises of the evening, the members were delightedly surprised by being invited to remain a few minutes when they were served to delicious ice cream and cake by the presidency. An excellent time was had by all and our only regret was that more were not in attendance. You are invited and advised to come every Sunday night in order to not miss any of our social good times which are likely to occur at frequent intervals.

Patrons of the Pastime, who are wont to spend a pleasant hour at that popular play house, were much disappointed last Sunday evening when they found that owing to some unaccountable reason, pictures were delayed in shipping and there would be no show that evening.

Dr. Haskett will go to Phoenix in a few days where he will spend the winter with the sheep men of the Salt River valley, in the discharge of his official duty.

A motor trip to the Petrified Forest on New Year's day, was enjoyed by Judge and Mrs. Sidney Sapp, and children, their daughter, Miss Irene Whetstone, and her guest, Miss Elizabeth Ross. A picnic dinner, consisting of the season's daintiest viands, was partaken of in the forest. An Afternoon Affair

MISS SCOTT MARRIED IN LOS ANGELES

From Los Angeles comes word of the marriage of Miss Loraine Scott to James Patterson Smart, student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., a recent event which attracted many Phoenixians to the coast. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Jackson Rice, life-long friends of the bride. The reception rooms were artistically decorated in pink carnations combined with ferns and smilax, while the predominant feature of the scheme was the wedding bell of ferns and roses, beneath which the bridal party stood. Rev. Henry Martyn Campbell of the Presbyterian church read the service. The music was charming. Miss Byrd Rice playing the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" and acting as accompanist for Miss Luella Rice, who softly sang "I Cannot Help Loving Thee," during the ceremony. The bride was lovely in cream brocaded crepe metear trimmed with lace and pearls. Her tulle veil fell the length of her train and was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Among the seventy-five guests who were present at the marriage of this popular girl, who formerly resided here, were Mrs. C. F. Kimber, Miss Marion Armstrong and Rev. Mr. Campbell from Phoenix. Mr. and Mrs. Smart are passing their honeymoon in northern California and will be at home in Los Angeles after the first of the year. —Phoenix Republican.

Mrs. Flanigan Hostess

One of the most enjoyable holiday affairs was the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Flanigan on Monday evening last. Mrs. Flanigan bears an enviable reputation as a hostess, and her dinners are the delight of all who have had the privilege of partaking of a sumptuous meal prepared by her own hands. The dining room was prettily decorated. A pleasing effect in the table decorations being obtained by arranging holly in a circle in the center, in which nestled a bowl of fragrant roses. Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. Sidney Sapp, Miss Irene Whetstone, Miss Margaret Conwell, Miss Maud Dawson, "Col." Ben First, Elmer and Mr. and Mrs. Flanigan.

The evening passed pleasantly with music and social conversation, which drifted quite naturally to the "eternal question" some one suggesting that a bachelor should be taxed heavily, his worldly goods confiscated, etc. Now, who is going to "B. First" to protect the "Colonel."

His Stomach Troubles Over

Mr. Dyspeptic, would not you like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers. adv.

A pleasant party motored to Joe City last Friday night to attend the dance there which was enjoyed by all present. The party consisted of Delmon McLaws, A. K. Miller, J. H. Miller, Mrs. McLaws and Miss Phoebe Miller.

THE HOLBROOK NEWS - JOURNAL CONTEST

The excitement and the festivities during the Christmas holidays had a noticeable effect on the candidates in the Aservo System Profit-Sharing campaign, conducted by The Holbrook News and the Albuquerque Morning Journal. Very few of the young women entered in the race worked conscientiously. Now that this great day is passed, great gains are looked forward to in the next list of standings.

At the last count made by the Tour Manager, Miss Lorena Wells of District No. 1, led. Her lead, however, although seemingly large, is practically nothing. It can be overcome by any young woman in this district if she only puts forth an effort. Two combination yearly subscriptions is all that is needed and your name would have led the list.

In district No. 3, in which Holbrook is situated, Miss A. Francis, residing Seboyta, N. M., led the list with a ballot of 1210 counts.

In the majority of instances the candidates do not realize the vast number of friends they have who are willing to get out and assist them in winning one of the grand awards. Many are they who have assisted you up to the present time and will be doubly glad to assist you as the campaign grows. Your friends have nominated you. Start now so you can make a good showing at the next exhibit of the standings.

If those friends who have nominated you are led to believe that you are not serious in the race, the support which rightfully belongs to you, will go to another. Show them today that you are going into the race to WIN and the rest will be easy.

It is not in this campaign as in the majority or others that a candidate is asking a favor of one to subscribe for the publications. In the first place both The News and the Journal should be in the home of every resident in this part of the country. On the other hand, the candidate is bestowing a favor on the subscriber as he profits when he subscribes. It is so arranged by the Aservo System that every new subscriber secured by a candidate will be placed in the position whereby he may save from $30 to $100 per year on his household expenses. To each new subscriber for more than six months an Aservo System coupon book is given them. Each coupon in this book means a five per cent discount on all purchases made in any Aservo System store. This alone will repay the subscriber the price of the two papers. This fact makes it easy for any candidate to secure subscriptions and pile up points.

One feature of this campaign is that the territory covered by the campaign is divided into five distinct districts. The candidate in no one district competing with those of another only in the case of the one grand prize—the tour of the world. Each district has its own separate awards. If a candidate in this district does not win the tour of the world by leading her district list, she will be awarded a trip to the Panama canal with a thirty-five days cruise through tropical seas. The next highest in this district will be awarded a $400 Jesse French Piano while the third highest will carry away an International correspondence Course valued at $75. Any of these awards are free to you with just a little effort.
